

IT'S A KNOCKOUT!

Do you remember the original BBC 'It's a Knockout' series? It was a laugh a minute, knockabout barrel of fun leaving most of the participants soaking wet but thoroughly pleased with themselves.

Now it's time to get out of your armchair and be one of the teams taking part in the real thing!

A whole afternoon of fun and laughter for all the family and all ages is guaranteed at Marl Pits, Rossendale on Sunday, August 12, 2012 with guest teams and celebrities.

If you would really like to see a friend, your boss, or your work colleague cope with huge inflatable's whilst wearing the most outrageous costumes then be there - or even better, come and join our team and make the fun yourself.

The event is best viewed with 9 teams of 10 competing in 6 fantastic games over a 4 hour period.

The cost for such a crazy, hilarious afternoon is just £500 per team of 10 people.
